Route

Day 1 Arrival in Burgos

Arrive in Burgos, a city defined by its magnificent Gothic cathedral, lively tapas streets and deep pilgrim history. Take time to explore the old quarter or enjoy a relaxed evening in one of the city's traditional taverns before the walk begins.

Day 2 Walk from Burgos to Hornillos del Camino, 20 km

Leaving the city behind, you gradually step into the wide, open landscapes of the Meseta. Long, straight paths lead you through fields and gentle hills, offering the first taste of the region's spacious horizons. Small cafés along the way make for easy breaks, and the walk ends in Hornillos del Camino, a quiet stone village built along a single, atmospheric street that has welcomed pilgrims for centuries.

Distance: 20 km

Day 3 Walk from Hornillos del Camino to Castrojeriz, 20 km

This stage continues through the calm openness of the plateau, where the scenery feels both simple and expansive. The route passes through small rural settlements before approaching Castrojeriz, whose houses stretch along the base of a hill crowned by castle ruins. It's one of the most characterful villages on the Camino, with narrow streets, historic façades and a warm, relaxed pilgrim atmosphere.

Distance: 20 km

Day 4 Walk from Castrojeriz to Frómista, 25 km

The day begins with a steady climb to the Alto de Mostelares, where far-reaching views reveal the full sweep of the Meseta. From here, a long descent brings you toward the Canal de Castilla, a peaceful waterway shaded by lines of poplars. The route follows its banks before continuing through quiet farmland to Frómista, home to the beautifully preserved Romanesque church of San Martín.

Distance: 25 km

Day 5 Walk from Frómista to Carrión de los Condes, 20 km

An easy and enjoyable stage through agricultural landscapes and traditional Castilian villages. The terrain is flat and gentle, allowing you to settle into a relaxed walking rhythm. Carrión de los Condes awaits with its ancient monasteries, inviting squares and friendly cafés — a pleasant town with deep Camino heritage.

Distance: 20 km

Day 6 Walk from Carrión de los Condes to Terradillos de los Templarios, 28 km

A longer stage that begins with a straight, open path leading into one of the most tranquil stretches of the Meseta. The land here is wide and uncluttered, with few distractions beyond the changing light and the soft movement of fields. Terradillos de los Templarios is a small and simple village linked to the history of the Knights Templar — a quiet and fitting end to the day.

Distance: 28 km

Day 7 Walk from Terradillos de los Templarios to Burgo Ranero, 29 km

Today's route follows tree-lined tracks and dirt paths that offer gentle shade and a steady rhythm. The landscape remains open and peaceful, with long horizons that invite unhurried walking. Burgo Ranero is a calm rural village, the kind of place where you immediately feel the slower pace of this region.

Distance: 29 km

Day 8 Walk from Burgo Ranero to Mansilla de las Mulas, 19 km

A shorter and comfortable stage along a leafy path bordered by tall poplars. As you progress, the scenery becomes gradually greener, signalling your approach to the province of León. You finish in Mansilla de las Mulas, a walled town with friendly cafés and small shops — a good place to rest before your final walking day.

Distance: 19 km

Day 9 Walk from Mansilla de las Mulas to León, 20 km

Your last day leads through quiet countryside and then along suburban paths as you approach León.
